Every now and then a property comes along that truly stands above the rest. This is that property!
Take one step inside this immaculately renovated home and you will know instantly this is something special. The attention to detail in the workmanship and finishes is immediately apparent and in a class of its own.
The current owners have created a space designed for entertaining and low maintenance living with the layout and flow ideally built for everyday family living.
This home commenced life in the 50's as a basic rectangular shaped run of the mill weatherboard house and has been totally transformed into a home that would not be out of place in a magazine. Stripped down and completely Re-wired, extended, redesigned and rebuilt; every inch of this home has been renovated to perfection.
