Step through the front door into the carpeted sunroom, which is carpeted and flooded with natural light to make it the perfect place to curl up with a book. From here you can access the lounge room, which you'll find is a great size and features split system air conditioning to keep you in climate controlled comfort. Down a short hallway is the updated eat-in kitchen, which boasts an incredible amount of storage space, electric appliances and a breakfast bar for informal dining. From here you can access the study, which is a great separate space to work from home or simply set up as a computer room.
